ROLLINS SWAMPS STETSON IN TWO JOYOUS GAMES

THE FLORIDA INTER-SCHOLASTIC WATER MEET

MANY SCHOOLS ENTERED FOR BIG STATE MEET TO BE HELD AT ROLLINS APRIL 20

Franklin O. King Elected Chairman of Governing Committee and Henry Kart Referee of Meet

The Governing Committee of the Florida State Inter-scholastic Aquatic Meet, composed of Franklin O. King, Henry Kart, D. K. Dickenson, H. W. Caldwell, Roy Symes and R. W. Greene, were in session last week and decided upon many important matters relative to the holding of the State Meet, Saturday, April 20. Franklin O. King was elected chairman of the committee.

The State Aquatic Meet promises to be a big event in the High School program of the year. Announcements concerning the meet have come out to 100 high schools in Florida and favorable returns are being received daily. Full instructions are being mailed out as fast as the entries are made. Hillsborough, Woodrow Wilson, St. Petersburg, West Palm Beach, Kissimmee, Orlando, Sanford, Daytona, New Smyrna and other high schools have entered. Madison, Palmetto and other cities have the matter under consideration. Interest on the part of the schools is growing and real competition will follow. The West Palm Beach boys took one cup home last year, while St. Petersburg high school girls say they are confident that they will carry the girls' cup back to St. Petersburg for the second time. Other teams throughout the state claim that they will give a lively battle and do their best to carry away honors this year.

The two silver cups will be contested for again this year. The team winning the highest number of points in the meet receives the cup and the team winning two successive meets retains its cup.

An attractive, distinctive medal design submitted by the Charles H. Elliott Co., of North Philadelphia, Pa., was presented to the Governing Committee recently. The committee unanimously adopted the design and

Call it baseball if you like, but the boys who done the dirty work have all agreed to train for the next Stetson games in the same way which they would train for a Marathon. The only reason why they did not beat them more than 3-0 in the second game is that the boys were all stiff from running the day before. If there was such a thing as a mine here in baseball, the John B. derby would have gotten it last Friday. Some folks say that the team cheated the fans out of a good game of ball on Thursday by not letting Stetson get 15 more runs to make it close, but you know George is a bit tricky about such things, and has no "mokey" at all in his heart.

Well, most all you readers saw those games, but for the benefit of those who on account of illness in the family or other unmentionable atrocities were detained or retained in your respective domiciles, we will endeavor to depict to you a few of the more sensational retrospectives of the national game as played here in Winter Park last Thursday and Friday. Then, too, if possible, we will start a new column entitled,

"HOW US DOES 'EM"

By "Cheesy" and "Brewery"

Well, in the first game—the Stetson boys, all primed and looking like a million dollars (to a blind man), broke out like the measles and got a man across on an error and two hits; but this did not worry the home boys

FLORIDA HISTORY REPLET WITH ROMANCE GIVEN IN DELPHIC LITERARY SOCIETY PROGRAM

An open meeting of the Delphic Literary Society which will long linger in the memory of those who attended from campus and town was had last Wednesday evening when the Florida History Division of the society presented one of the most meritorious programs of the year. Miss Nora Wells is chairman of this committee and in the preparation of the papers presented she received the able assistance of three members of the faculty who are greatly interested in the study of Florida History in Florida—Mrs. W. L. Corbin (Librarian), Mrs. P. E. Ollinger and Mr. A. J. Hanna.

After the brief business session, the president of the society asked the secretary to take charge of the program. Acting in this capacity, Miss Helen Jallus spoke briefly of the purpose of the program and then introduced in turn Miss Ruth Seader, who gave an outline of the discovery of the peninsula state and a review of its early history; Mr. Hanna, who read an interesting paper on the Turnbull settlement in New Smyrna; Miss Wells, who read a paper on the Seminole Indians written by Wallace Stevens; Miss Blanche Whitney, who read an original Flor-

STUDENTS GIVE "THE TOASTMASTER" WITH SUCCESS

PUPILS FROM THE DRAMATIC DEPARTMENT OF THE COLLEGE SHOW ABILITY BEFORE THE FOOTLIGHTS

The Plot of the Play Is Formed From a Series of Humorous Complications Very True to Campus Life

"The Toastmaster," the first play of the season to be given by Mrs. Rountree's pupils from the Expression department, was played before an enthusiastic audience in the High School auditorium on the evening of March 24. It was a college comedy in which a great many complications arose to prevent the Sophomore banquet. The Freshmen captured the Sophomore toastmaster and hid him in the cellar of Professor Reed's home. Bill Morgan, who loved the professor's daughter, camouflaged as a lady and applied for a position as cook at Professor Reed's in order to find the "Toastmaster." In a series of rapidly following events, in which all of the characters seemed hopelessly entangled, the plot was worked out successfully for the Sophomores, to the chagrin of the Freshmen. The banquet was held, Bill's debts for flowers and candy for Cynthia were paid, and the professor decided Bill would make a fine son-in-law, so all ended happily.

Bob Wright, the versatile football star, played the part of a cook, and a college man in love, and in debt, equally well. Don Knowles, and Wallace Stevens, the Toastmaster, and a fellow Sophomore, were excellent, while Eddie Bell, as the dignified professor, showed the audience that he had found his calling as an actor. Frank Evans, Joe Kahner and Harry Wendler as short Freshmen could scarcely have been equalled in their wiles to keep the Toastmaster from the banquet. As for the ladies—Florence Bunby as leading lady, and Helen McKay as the professor's dumb wife, both played excellently. Last but not least was David Crockett, who as the little brother, caused several complications, according to the habit of little

ALPHA PHI EPSILON

A chapter of Alpha Phi Epsilon has been installed at Rollins. Students are eligible to membership on a basis of excellence in debates, original speeches, parliamentary law, general activity in literary work, and high scholarship.

Rollins students should take advantage of this opportunity to get into a national fraternity of high-grade men and women. We have the facilities for developing such students and the ideals of Rollins lead in that direction. This possibility should stimulate Rollinsmen to get busy and make the local chapter one that will be an honor to the college and to the general fraternity as well. A debating team is now being organized and getting ready for action against Mercer. Are you going to get into the game and make good for yourself and the College?

ROLLINS REAWAKENS

Somewhat analogous to the sleep of Rip Van Winkle, is the reawakening of Rollins from her athletic slumber of several years. With the double victory over Stetson last week Rollins has become a potent factor once more in the collegiate athletics of the state. The state championship is seriously in danger of being captured by the Blue and Gold nine, under the expert management and direction of Coach Brewster and Captain Ward. Stetson, unless some miraculous change takes place, has ceased to be a dangerous opponent. Southern will never get another chance to "clean" in the way she did in that first game. The State University is the principal problem—Rollins seems to be off her schedule. There is but one thing to do in a race like this and that is to challenge Florida at the end of the season if we are victorious. Then if she will not play, she will have to forfeit the championship through default. From her experience with us last year when we had a weaker team, she may prefer to do this, rather than have her prestige lowered by being beaten at the hands of a much smaller college. Keep the old fight up to the last ditch, team, and we will make them look to their scalp.

DR. HUNT SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

That all students here a good baseball story was proven Friday morning in chapel when Dr. Hunt, Social Service Secretary of the Congregational Church, began his talk by describing one of the most intensely interesting baseball games ever held at Yale. He went on to say that the purpose of going to college is "to learn to want what you ought to want to make the body do what you want it to do, and to learn to build a social order in which those who want legitimate things can get them."

Under Taker

Newell: "Prof's sick today."
Sloan: "What's the complaint?"
Newell: "No complaint, everybody's satisfied."

On last Sunday the fraters assembled in the house of Phi Alpha for a little get-together and informal party. The speaker of the evening was W. V. ALPHA ALPHA SCANDAL

Brother Henderson has returned from "Fort Pierce" after spending a very enjoyable week-end.

The 9 o'clock rule has been broken and killed by "Fat." It used to be that any brother sleeping after 9 o'clock was fined half a buck. "Fat" broke the rule four mornings in a row, and then refused to produce the necessary cash on demand. For some unknown reason he became angry and declared a hunger strike, and positively refused to take any nourishment whatever. He fell away to a lun and the brothers began to be worried. At last Brother Arrants solved the problem. The rule was declared null and void. "Fat" eats, talks and is enjoying life once more.

Hey, you editor-in-charge of The Sandspur. Bro. Sloan says he writes baseball articles for the paper, not for the waste basket. Print 'em, flush, print 'em.

Bro. Sherman left for Bar Harbor Saturday. It is rumored that he will travel by way of Fallon, Ky. Can you blame him?

Oy Yoy, the big truck ride, let's go, brothers. Toot, toot, here comes the hand car.

SIGMA PHI NOTES

Rosa Brooks entertained the Sigma Phi's and their pledges last Thursday at a most delightful birthday party. Refreshments were served, after which the children danced. Presently someone conceived the brilliant idea of playing truth and consequences. The forfeits were remained at a great cost. Lucy is going to sing for a living, not as for Carrots—well, you'd be surprised!

It is rumored down the sun's corridor that plans are being whispered about the future, and numerous operations are now under way. As to the hats of names, and salads—well, you know already that "Red" can cure put out some good results in the form of food.

Sigma Phi takes great pleasure in announcing Easter Russell as a pledge.

Who said Sigma Phi can't yell? Was she at the ball games last week? Well, rather!

Charlotte doesn't seem so anxious to rush to Cloverleaf "at an evening" and "beat the box." I wonder who wards her off?

Mary Burke has told us with tears in her eyes that when she has a little home of her own, she is going to remake her family with "canned corn, canned beans" and potatoes as a little holiday treat!

Who says they can't hear Ada Brockmann coming? Speaking of spiffy bathing suits with ropes to match—s Auburn? no, just plain red!

Ruth and Alford Stone were holding down Cloverleaf porch the other night. I suppose everything went along peacefully, but then Ruth says, "Oh, you don't know the 'real' Stoney!"

K. E. KICKS

The K. E.'s are very proud of the excellent dramatic ability displayed in "The Toastmaster" by two of its members—Florence Lundy and Helen McKay. Actions speak louder than words, Helen!

Mr. and Mrs. Everhard have left for their home in Wadsworth, Ohio, after having spent the winter in Orlando. Mrs. Rickard and her daughter have also returned to Wadsworth. They spent the winter with the Everhards.

If you would like to discuss an interesting subject, ask Lee why she will not miss a ball game, and why she always stands near first base.

Why does Dolly run across the athletic field?

Who would keep Cloverleaf porch down Sunday evenings, if it did not have the two unfailing guards at either end?

Mary lost something else when she lost her fraternity pin. Lucky for Fred that he found them both.

DEATH OF REV. ROBERT HOY KENDALL, A FORMER DEAN OF ROLLINS COLLEGE

Word has been received of the death of Rev. Robert Hoy Kendall, father of Miss Amelia Kendall of Winter Park and a former dean of Rollins College. Mr. Kendall's death occurred on March 22, following a serious operation. The funeral services were held at his church in Dover, Mass., on Friday, March 25, with burial in the family lot in Ridgefield, Conn., on Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Kendall was born in Ridgefield, Conn., on March 28, 1849, (the son of Jane Ann Hoy and Dr. Calvin Kendall). He was a graduate of the East Hampton (Mass.) Academy, of Yale University, class of '72, and of Yale Seminary. He taught in Bell's Academy, Stamford, Conn., for three years before taking up his life work as a minister.

He is survived by his wife, Harriet Foster, and by two daughters, Joan Lambie, a teacher in Boston, and Amelia Hoy, nursing supervisor of rural schools in Florida.

All through his life Mr. Kendall has been a very much loved man. One reason for this was because he loved people, old and young, but perhaps especially young people. This fact was clearly shown during his connection with Rollins College, where as teacher and friend he had a great influence over the students. He was a natural leader; a man interested and concerned in all the conferences and clubs of which he was a member, an ardent student of history, and one who looked on all advanced thought with an open mind. He always kept up to date in his work, writing a new sermon for each Sunday; usually based on something he had been reading. At one time he made an exhaustive study of church finances during the revolutionary period, the results of his investigation being published in the New England Magazine.

Through his daughter, Mr. Kendall has kept in touch with Rollins affairs, and has always expressed the greatest pleasure when things have gone especially well with the college. No one could have been more pleased than he at the success of the endowment campaign. In his last letter to his daughter he spoke of his great love and interest in Rollins.

The students and faculty of the college extend their deepest sympathy to Miss Kendall and to her mother and sister.

Much has been said concerning our beloved college news organ but very little has been written, and what's more, very little is going to be written.

Of late there has been some criticism in regard to a certain class of articles that appear in this paper. As we all hope and believe, The Sandspur is a student paper, written and published for those of us here at Rollins College. However, there has crept into the paper articles which the majority of students never look at. Ask any student where he looks first. It is the "Sport" section. What next? Sporting page. Then what happens? The chances are nine out of ten that he lays the paper down and forgets about it till the next issue comes out.

What the student wants is more humorous little sketches, and facts relating to college life. What does the average student care about long articles on the latest feature of the weekly organ revival? If it is read at all it is for lack of anything else to read of it.

Let's all get together for a bigger better Sandspur.

ENCYCLOPEDIA AMERICAN POST PAID TO PUBLISHERS OF THE POST FOR 10 DAYS

Rollins has the opportunity to obtain the new edition of the great American reference set, the Encyclopedia Americana, under Library Fund for this year was exhausted when the opportunity came. Dr. C. H. Hunt, head of the English department, says: "We must have it." No one there who saw the set or knew about it will argue with him, for the Americana is one of the finest reference libraries obtainable today, being rated on a par with the Britannica. The edition is in 22 volumes, is complete, containing up-to-date and includes the war. So popular has the Americana been and so universal its good reports in this country that the set has been placed in practically every institution solicited.

Dr. Hoyt is right—"We must have it." Already a gift of $30 has been received, which brings the price down from $200 to $170. Here is an opportunity for one or more philanthropically inclined persons in the town to be the means of placing in Winter Park and the college a thoroughly American production and one of the finest reference sets on the market. Let it be remembered that Carnegie Library is open to the public and not limited to the faculty and students of the college.

The Americana is on exhibition in

A funny incident occurred on Friday morning of last week, just before the second Stetson game. Most of the rival team decided that it might be beneficial to paddle awhile and collect their scattered thoughts, which had become sadly disconnected in the run of 18-2 the afternoon before. What happened out on the lake is still a mystery, at any rate a Dotsen man, whose name it is best not to mention, was seen walking down to the Park Inn barefooted. Something must have gone wrong! A diving crew will be organized (?) to look for the lost articles, as it is rumored that they are absolutely new and very costly. It seems too bad that Stetson had such a losing spirit in this trip. They lost both games, a pair of shoes, their gear, a lot of temper, and it looks as though they lost all title to the Florida Intercollegiate championship. Too bad.

APPOINTMENTS

The Editor wishes to announce the appointment of the following: Richard Dowd, Assistant Manager of the, and Max Sloan, 22, Dora Sawley and Edward Hall, Reporter.

Dr. A. E. Hunt, Social Secretary of the Educational Society, made his first visit Friday, March 27, to the course of his survey of South Sea institutions.

Dr. Hunt was here to secure important data concerning the college with a view to possible aid to be given to the institution.

Chancellor Brooks, after taking Dr. Hunt about the college and acquainting him with its equipment, program, and the work being accomplished, took him over to Daytona to connect him with the East Coast train for Palm Beach, for an interview with Dr. Ward. Dr. Hunt professed himself much pleased with the situation at Rollins and assured Chancellor Brooks of possible financial assistance on the part of the Educational Society on the strength of the showing made.

Dr. Hunt, while here, appeared before the students at chapel, and in a very happy and telling speech, drove home some wholesome truths regarding the responsibility for leadership devolving upon college students today.

JACK RABBIT GETS BACK PENNANT

Near Shipwreck in Race—Captain Blair, Under Captain Blair, with Joe H. Hunter, presented her pennant and once again it streamers proudly from her mast.

On Saturday, March 26, the Jack Rabbit, under Captain Blair, with Joe H. Hunter, presented her pennant and once again it streamers proudly from her mast.

The Tortoise was manned by Captain Paul Potter, Dick Potter, Captain Rhoe and Fred Kirkbaugh (also sailed).

The Tortoise seemed to have the race until the second lap, when the Jack Rabbit woke up and took the lead, sailing in far ahead of the others. The Tortoise came to next, but Captain Rhoe got hung in irons upon the last buoy and suddenly giving up hope, paddled back into the wind and went sailing all over the lake.

Next came a race between the current, The Mariner was under Captain Butler. Captain Rhoe was in command of the Tiger and invited Miss Edwards and several of the girls aboard as guests.

The Mariner did not seem to get a good start, getting her sails up and filled in a moment. But the Tiger was not so fortunate, evident Charles is right and "women bring bad luck on a sailboat." First there was trouble with the sails and while trying to remedy this the Tiger ran aground on the rush-bound shores of Lake Virginia; it was, "Overboard and shove, bludge," which he did, narrowly averting the catastrophe. But evidently the Tiger feared the waves, for soon it again tried to climb out on the bank. At last, though, everything was made ship shape, and the Tiger sailed away, but not over the race course.

Hard luck, Tiger. Congratulations, Captain Butler, on your seamanship, and your worthy crew.

KANGAROO AGAIN BEATS TIGER

Sunday afternoon those who were fortunate enough to be around the boat-house or out on the lake witnessed a thrilling race between the Tiger under Captain Rhoe and the Kangaroo under Captain Blair.

The prize offered by Prof. Blair was a pound box of candy. The crews tumbled into their boats, the starter gave the word and the race was on.

The Tiger slipped ahead and when she reached the second buoy she had a lead of over three lengths, but here he got hung up, and the superior seamanship of Captain Blair brought her Kangaroo in first.

We have to hand it to you, Prof.

ROLLINS SWAMPS STETSON IN TWO RACES

much, as they came back strong enough in the second to tie the score. After that the home boys put joy in the game, at the expense of excitement.

Stetson scored again for the last time on the Rollins field this year in the third, but Ward's Wallpops came up again right after this and scored two more runs by hits from Arrante, Taylor and Ward, and Ward's sacrifice. After this Rollins only got two runs on bases, both courtesy Arrante, and scoring put, George Young "Cherry" Arrante had them on the lips of his fingers from then on. They had the spirit though, poor boys. They tried, and gave them credit for trying; but too many of them shook their heads at "Cherry," made out like they didn't want to hit the darned thing, anyhow, and walked back to the bench. "Cherry" fanned 16, and only allowed seven well-scattered hits.

Rollins' big inning was the sixth. Ward, King, Taylor, Storey, Wilson, Roberts and Arrante joined up a fine hit for as many runs; and if Captain Ward had only touched second on that three-bagger of his, there is no telling when that game would have stopped. Ward and Arrante each pulled down two hits this inning. The coach was already feeling like Parry Arbuckle in "Brewster's Millions."

Gardner, the pride and joy of Stetson, fell from the marble pedestal of invincibility and was replaced by H-n, who did well to keep Rollins down to three more runs.

The game as a whole was not exciting, but it did every Rollins rooter good to watch those 18 men cross the plate, and the noise was just as big when the eighteenth came across as when the first one came.

Most every one did some nasty work with the bat, but the high honors go to Ward, King, Storey and Arrante.

Everyone enjoyed seeing him on Tiger empire bases, and we wish to thank him for his generous services.

Second Game

The second episode of this "two real" romance came on Friday, when Rollins proved to everyone that the first game was not an accident, and Ward saw him in time and Storey finished him.

Taylor pitched this game in the same snappy fashion that he displayed at Southern. The kid only gave out three hits, no two of which came in the same inning, so to him goes the honor of the first shut-out of the year, but we hope it won't be the last. We had to chalk down the only error of the day against Taylor, but what does that count for against one strikeouts and three assists.

Kicklighter pitched a very fine game of ball for Stetson, and everyone enjoyed his winning smile which kept up throughout. It's always there, and he certainly is a good loser. He is credited with one of his team's three hits.

Storey again came forth in this game with honors, pulling down over a third of the Rollins hits, and holding Taylor in big league style. Only one man was fast enough to get to second on him, and this was the above-mentioned Stetson man, Jimmy Kicklighter.

Our first two runs came in the second inning. Errors were for the most part responsible for these. However, the third run, which came in the eighth, was due to Storey's hit, Wilson's sacrifice, and Taylor's hit.

Only once were the Stetson berries near the home plate. That was when Kicklighter tried to steal home, but Ward saw him in time and Storey finished him.

MISS MARY LOUISE CONAWAY,
'17, ONE OF MOST CHARMING
AND POPULAR ROLLINS
GIRLS, WEDS. MR. G.
H. A. KUNST

A large circle of friends on the campus received during the past week announcement of the recent marriage of Miss Mary Louise Conaway, a charming and popular Rollins girl who received her degree here in 1917, to Mr. George Henry Augustus Kunst. The happy couple will be at home after May 1 at Grafton, W. Va. The announcement came as a surprise to her many friends in this state, as she visited here last summer, and it was not known at that time.

Miss Conaway, who is a West Virginia girl, was one of the most gifted students Rollins has ever had. Having a personality that made each new acquaintance a friend and possessing a stately beauty that made her admired by all, she was an outstanding figure in Winter Park and Orlando during her undergraduate days. While at Rollins she was active in student activities and associated herself with the best interests of the college. During her freshman year she was not only vice-president of her class, but also of the V. W. C. A., and played on the girls' basketball team. Later she was Society Editor of the Sandpeter and in her senior year Associate Editor of The Tumbler. During the 1917 Class Day exercises she acted as prophet, and in the conventional academic outfit will long be remembered as pointing out the day when Rollins would have a five million dollar endowment.

Carrying out her ambitions, Miss Conaway went from Rollins to the University of West Virginia in study last year, where she made the highest record in her class. But, alas, the call of Cupid was stronger than that of law, and now this Rollins girl will start on a new road of accomplishment—the making of a home. It is useless to miss that their many friends in Florida wish for Mr. and Mrs. Kunst every happiness in their new future.

"Fat" Henderson Enters His Scorpion—Steak Roast at Brother Kart's a Great Splash

Last week the gang of hooligans that call themselves the Alpha Alphas were inclined to try their skill in a huge splash roast which took place at Bro. Kart's, on the shore of Lake Matland.

Twenty-two berries answered the call, and the splash line looked about as hot as in the old days during the war. The grossy deed took place in a little hollow down by the shore, and the low benches were appreciated by all.

The big surprise happened when "Fat" strutted up for his seventh handout. As he was leaning against a tree trying to make Bro. Childers believe that that was his second wife, a little scorpion grabbed him by the hand. Immediately Bro. Henderson lost all interest in the steak and commenced to cry. Ever see a scorpion cry? It's very funny—simply "exquisite."

"Fat" took a vacation for the next couple of days. Had he had an exam from a regular licensed doctor. Now what-do-you think of that?

In conjunction, the tribe of Alpha Phas is open for more steak roasts. There's for the impulsive, folks. We'll be around next week at 6 o'clock.

Engagement Announced

A charming afternoon party took place last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart when the engagement of their daughter, Freda, was announced. The bridegroom-to-be is Charles Williams, brother of Kathleen Williams, who attended Rollins last fall, and the wedding is to take place next June. The tables were beautifully decorated with garlands and delicious refreshments were served at small tables in the dining room. The guests on the day were: Mrs. Roland Bar, Mrs. Virginia Mae Wulfford, Mrs. Louise Smith, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Rose Powers, Mrs. Chances, Mrs. Leifert, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Marian Ross, Mrs. Fryer, Mrs. A. B. Ross, Mrs. A. W. Mason and Mrs. Roy P. Symes.

The best wishes of the Stewart's many friends in both town and college are extended to Miss Stewart.

A TRIBUTE

A beautiful tribute to the memory of Miss Louise Abbott, a former teacher here, has come to the college in the form of a picturesque bird fountain which has been placed at one side of the grassy lawn directly north of Cloverleaf. The donor, a niece of Miss Abbott, is Mrs. Wadsworth Smith of Burlington, Vermont. Her beautiful gift is a fitting expression of her love for one who gave herself and her services in the uplifting of this institution.

FLORIDA INTERSCHOLASTIC AQUATIC MEET

will present contestants winning first, second and third places of each event with gold, silver and bronze medals, respectively.

Lake Virginia will be a scene of much activity on the day of the meet. The committee has secured the services of the Klammee Band for morning and afternoon concerts. A committee of college girls will serve refreshments and lunches to visitors at a nominal charge. Motor-boats, launches, rowboats and canoes from the surrounding lakes will make their way into Lake Virginia on the day of the meet, bringing parties of spectators. The naval boats, furnished by the United States Navy Department, will also be in use at the time. Ten new 17-foot canoes, war canoes, and canoes rigged with sails will give exhibition races.

The Rollins Club of Winter Park will receive and entertain contestants, coaches, chaperones, and give a reception-dance Saturday evening, April 30.

Henry Kart, of Winter Park, prominent in aquatic sports and who introduced the successful meet of last year, was selected by the committee to referee this year's meet. Without a doubt, no meet was ever run off more smoothly than the meet of last year. The success of the occasion was largely due to the efficient services of Mr. Kart.

The Governing Committee elected the following to serve as officials for the 1911 meet:

Referee—Henry Kart.
Clerk of Course—W. W. Rose.
Scorer—George Burden.
Announcer—S. K. Guernsey.
Captain of Course—Chester Kenner.
Judge—M. J. Dantwyler, Idabel Edwards, Wilbur Flowers.

LEGENDS OF LAND OF FLOWERS READ AT DELPHIC

idea poem with historical background: Mrs. Hiram Powers, editor of the Winter Park Post, who read one of her own well-known Florida poems, "The Charge of the Thirty Cavaliers." The program was completed by a discussion of the study of Florida history by Miss Amelia Kendall, which was one of the most enlightening talks ever heard by a Delphic audience. She congratulated the Delphic Literary Society on its Florida History Division and spoke of the untold and absorbing field in which its work falls. She also spoke of its effort to enlarge and make adequate the file of Florida history books, papers and historical documents in the Rollins Library.

As a result of this fine program there is bound to result an increased interest among Rollins students in the history of their own state and future programs by the Florida History Division will be looked forward to with great anticipation.

ALPHA PHI EPSILON

To The Sandspur:

As the representative of the Rollins Irving Bachelor Club which petitioned the Alpha Phi Epsilon national honorary fraternity, I had the pleasure of being present at the debate between the University of South Carolina and the University of Tennessee, which was held at the University of Florida on the night of the 15th. The interesting subject, "Resolved, that the Smith-Townier Bill should be adopted as it stands today," was well presented. The five judges unanimously agreed that the University of South Carolina, which maintained the negative side, was the winner.

I had the pleasure of staying at the beautiful private estate of Major Thomas in company with the four debaters, one of whom was Charles L. Morse, the national president of A. P. E. I was deeply impressed with the ability of these men. If Rollins is to take her stand beside the colleges and universities of the South in debating and literary work, she must exert every effort to strengthen this work here in the college.

At the installation of the A. P. E. in the university law building, Rollins and Stetson also received chapters. After the somewhat humiliating initiation had been completed, the hospitable Florida men hurried us to one of the leading cafes in Gainesville, where we attended a very delightful banquet. Dean Hummel, of the Law School, gave a very appropriate after-dinner talk. The various talks were intermingled with a few words from each one of the 10 members present. The University of Florida has an exceedingly energetic and sincere chapter. Several of them are law students, and fluent speakers. They impressed me as being an unusually keen set of men who were determined to live up to the ideals fostered by A. P. E. It is my sincere hope that Rollins will realize the responsibility of holding this chapter and that she will exert every effort to raise her standards in debating and literary work, so that the officials of Alpha Phi Epsilon will never regret the granting of the Rollins chapter.

ROLLINS SWAMPS STETSON IN TWO GAMES

"Most every member of the team has one special mention in some manner or other, but the space is limited. However, The Sandspur can guarantee the team as a whole that the college is behind them every minute and pulling for them whether they play here or on some foreign field. This was proven in these last two games. Only a very few straight shelter in the shade, and it is hoped that at the next game they will stick on the job longer.

All the honors of winning do not go to the team. People outside of Winter Park and Orlando do not know one man on the team sometimes, but when they hear of Rollins slugging they think of Rollins and he college as a whole gets the credit. It is the student's team and it is up to the students to show their appreciation for supporting it in every way. Still I haven't heard anyone mention that the team might appreciate sweaters like the ones the football fellows received.

There are only a few traditions in this college, and of course this makes it harder for the students to understand their duty towards the different teams, but the first way to fulfill this duty is by coming out to every game during the year, and then it won't be long before a person who does not come out will feel so ashamed that he will have to start running and keep it up. We want headstrong pep here and we're going to get it. Every student remember this!

BASEBALL DOPE

Did you notice how superstitious the coach is? He nearly refused those berries who tried to drag the goat across the diamond during the second game. You can't blame him, though, for the team lost the first Southern game in the ninth inning when the score was 7 to 3 in Rollins' favor, and two men down.

"Free-trade" Ryan work as hard as any of the team during the games. Old "Rusty" kept up the pep all along and all the fellows will say that he won half that series.

Leroy Leslie (alias Tom) sure played great ball and it sure hurt the Stetson fellows to see one of their old men playing for Rollins and doing his best to beat them. And he sure did it, believe us.
